

Honduras Trip Travelogue

It's been a great first day! We had a great team to send us off in prayer and headed for the airport. Everything ran smoothly and we landed in Tegucigalpa, Honduras at 9:30 AM. It was such an exciting time getting off the plane after hours of traveling but it was also such a joy to finally meet Paul and Tania Steer who were waiting for us at the airport.

We loaded up and headed to Comayagua to grab some amazing Honduran food for lunch and checked in to our hotel. We then headed to Tintel to meet the children that the Steers minister to with their fútbol ministry. Every single one of them went around and shook everyone's hands and welcomed us. They were the sweetest children I've ever met! It was awesome being able to hangout with them and see the joy in their hearts thanks to the Lord and the constant love and intentionality from the Steers.

My favorite part was being able to hear the way Paul cares for the children in Tintel. He is teaching them how sin affects them and their loved ones but also how it affects their relationship with Jesus. We ended our time with the kids by praying for them and their families. I was able to witness what Jesus is doing through the children to create a new legacy that glorifies Jesus. I'm excited to spend time with them for the next few days during VBS and create friendships with them. Lastly, we spent the night at the Steer's home.

We enjoyed delicious food that Tania prepared for us and played ice breaker games. I am truly amazed at how kind and loving the people in Honduras are. I see God through them in the way that they serve the people around them.

Please continue to pray for us and the relationships we'll make with the children, mothers, and high school girls. We are so excited to finally be in Honduras and we cannot wait to see what the Lord has prepared for us and what He will do in the hearts of the people of Comayagua, Siguatepeque, and Tintel. Thank you for your support and your prayers. We couldn't have done it without every single one of you!

God is good and He is doing great things in Honduras!

Plus: Allen's Anecdotes from Day 1

Today is our first day in Comayagua, a city of about 180,000, but today was mostly about getting here. I think my goal for today was seeing how much Spanish I can pick up. We had a nice lunch of Honduran food including fried plantains. Although we got plantain chips earlier from a street vendor, now that was really good.

In the afternoon we went up into the mountains a little bit to Tintel. This is a focus of the Steer's ministry here. It is a very poor, small, tight-knit community. They are very closed to outsiders, so the Steer's have started a soccer club. Through this, they give the kids something productive to do and shows them that someone cares about them. They also teach the kids Bible lessons.

Gradually, the hope is to build friendships with the adults in the community and create change. There is a lot of alcoholism and violence against women and they hope to change that. We will be involved in one of the first steps in that direction as we help build ovens for several families later this week. For now, pray that we will be a part of building relationships in the community and the people will be open to us.

God Bless, Allen
